

Welcome to Il Buco.

Welcome to our land.

Here begins a tale, a tale of tastes, smells, and memories. . .

A story where the characters, are played by you.

Through these pages you will experience traces of our country and memories of flavors handed down to us over the centuries, here in our kitchen, where you are welcome.

In each, you can find links to our Mediterranean Sea through the fresh fish that we propose, the colors of the products we love, like the red of the tomatoes of Vesuvius, the green of the herbs from our garden, the purple of the freshly picked purple eggplants and the yellow potatoes cooked in the manner of our ancestors.

The scents and smells will remain forever, like those of freshly made bread from our bakery or of the lemons and oranges of Sorrento.

In each dish you will find traces of all of us, in the passionate way we create and present our dishes to you.

TRACES which we hope will remain with you.

TRACES to share, with whom you care about.

We hope that this dining experience will prove to be a fond memory for you.

Our menu will be a guide to provide a starting point for combination of ingredients to create something unique for you.

From now, we will take care of everything. You may either select from our menu or modify it according to your tastes and preferences.

Relax and enjoy the time at Il Buco.

Let it be an unforgettable gastronomic experience.

Enjoy your meal!
